

Do you provide training or business services to young entrepreneurs?

Call for Expressions of Interest (EOI) Deadline: July 31st 2025

The mandate of the African Agribusiness Incubators Network (AAIN) is to strengthen the capacity of institutions to carry on business incubation and acceleration and to achieve greater impact on the survival, profits and job creation of your clients. AAIN is looking for potential partners for future projects such as Business Incubators, Accelerators, Enterprise Support Organizations (ESOs) as well as TVETs, Universities, Artisans and Private Industry actors across the 5 regions of Uganda which routinely help entrepreneurs, especially youth and women, to create and strengthen their agri-businesses.

Do you:

- Support youth and women-led agribusiness enterprises?
- Provide quality business development services?
- Support green or environmentally sustainable businesses?
- Work in remote or underserved areas?
- Enhance the survival and graduation rate of your client's startups?
- Facilitate access to finance, mentoring, shared equipment/ work space or markets?
- Help your clients to create decent and sustainable employment opportunities?

Eligibility Criteria:

- Must be a legally registered entity in Uganda such as a business incubator/accelerator, enterprise support organization, TVET, University or private business.
- Must be able if asked to show evidence of programming and impact on your clients.
- Must have operational infrastructure and qualified personnel.
- Must be committed to inclusive, sustainable, and impactful entrepreneurship support.
- Must have documented governance, operational and financial accountability systems.
- Must be interested and willing to participate in future AAIN capacity building and other programs.
